Planning And Zoning Members Look To Oct. 18 Meeting

PAHOKEE — With the first stages of rezoning and better city planning discussed, Executive Sec. Frederick H. Bair, Jr., of the Florida Planning & Zoning Association, and City Council and the zoning committee planned this week for a return meeting Monday, Oct. 18.

Bair, at a session with the two groups Tuesday night following a day and a half's preliminary survey of the city, hopes to have a land use map ready for presentation at the Oct. 18 meeting, he said.

This will show the concentrations and expansions of business and residential districts of Pahokee at the present time, and indicate what area need particular zoning and planning attention.

Slow Growth "Lucky" — "This town is extremely lucky that it isn't growing fast, for it means there is time to plan for future growth," Bair told Mayor Lewis Friend, Councilmen F. S. Parrish, James Harry Wilkinson, Jr., R. B. Simonson and Louis Mims, and Zoning Committee members Otto Blech, Wiley Tillis, and Bob Apelgren.

He stressed the need for subdivision regulations, and said he was astounded to find that the City of Pahokee has been standing such expenses as street paving in subdivisions, rather than the subdivider.

"You have streets, but you darned sure don't have any street plan," Bair said.

Land here is like that in England, he noted, where land versus industrial and business development is a problem because the land is more valuable in its natural state than built up.

"If you think your town hasn't shown any growth," said Bair, "Take a look at the aerial map made in 1949 and compare it with what you have now in new business and residential buildings."

2200 Drivers Licenses — PAHOKEE — Approximately 2200 driver's licenses were issued at the Florida State Highway Patrol office during September when they were available there, according to Mrs. Juanita Cowart, issuing officer.

NOTED LIFE PHOTOGRAPHER MAKES GLADES AIR TRIP

The fertile mucklands of the Glades were getting a camera going-over at the hands of a world-famed expert this week, as Life Magazine Photographer Margaret Bourke-White made aerial color photographs of the young crops.

Using three aerial cameras and a special color film, and fighting cloudy weather, Miss Bourke-White is recording the varied patterns and colors of growing vegetables from 20-Mile Bend to the Clewiston area.

Glades Photo Shop's Ed Jensen is pilot-guide for the noted photographer, who is on a nationwide assignment for her editors. GLADES OBSERVER staff members have been working with her on the "word reporting" about Glades vegetables and how they grow.

CITY IN BIG BUSINESS, TOO — PAHOKEE — "The city's biggest business is the city itself," said Frederick W. Bair, Jr., executive secretary of the Florida Planning and Zoning Association, at the Lions Luncheon Tuesday.

Bair, in Pahokee at the invitation of the City Council to advise on planning and zoning of the city, suggested that employment of a city manager very often saved a community more than a manager's salary in efficient operation of city business expenditures.

Introduced by Mayor Lewis Friend, Bair told the city council and their guests that "zoning is a matter of dividing the city into districts with uniform regulations in each area." He continued, "Planning must come before zoning because once the direction of the city is found, once its aspirations and potentialities are manifested, then and only then can growth be controlled."

City Mgr.'s Value — Stating that it was in these areas where the services of a city manager were most valuable, Bair explained that smaller cities in Florida are more and more realizing the tremendous economies a business manager affords the city's biggest business — the city.

Referring to his local assignment, Bair said that the experts in a community are the townpeople themselves, the residents know what kind of a town they want, and an outside adviser can only lend professional assistance and point out the legalities and technicalities which rise after the responsible leadership of the community begins work of planning and zoning.

Dr. Rembert Guy was a special guest of the club and he introduced Dr. James W. Averitt, evangelist, who thanked the community through the club for its support of his work. John H. Duff, bookkeeper at the Everglades Memorial Hospital, was introduced as a new member.

BG 'Situation' Comes To Boil

BELLE GLADE — The story of Charlie York this week threw the citizens of this area into a storm of indignation about what some term "the hospital situation" and others call "the doctor situation" here.

Charlie York is 47 years old, and a machinist helper at Okelanta Sugar Refinery, Inc. He has been a resident of Belle Glade for 18 years.

Tuesday, with a piece of steel in his eye, Charlie waited for more than four hours at Belle Glade Memorial Hospital for the attention of a physician.

Suffering increasing pain, with the steel imbedded just short of the iris in his eye, Charlie finally checked out of the hospital and was taken by a friend to a drug store, from which he telephoned a Belle Glade physician who could have come to Charlie's assistance at any time during those four hours, had he been summoned.

Charlie's Story — This is Charlie's story as told by him to the OBSERVER Wednesday evening.

He was at work at the sugar mill Tuesday afternoon when, about 2 o'clock a piece of steel flew into his eye as he was drilling machinery. He was taken by John Parrish, Okelanta paymaster, to the Belle Glade office of a physician who handles most of the company's insurance cases. Told that the physician was out of town, he went to the hospital where he was informed that the physician was expected later. A nurse put drops in his eye, and since the doctor was not there to treat him, Charlie went home to take off his work clothes and wash up before entering the hospital.

About 4:15 he was admitted to the hospital, to Room 3, he said. Told that only the physician he had originally tried to see could treat him or the insurance wouldn't be any good, Charlie pointed out that he had personal insurance, and that he had money to pay, and that what he wanted was a doctor, any doctor. He mentioned another Belle Glade physician, but that brought no results.

Finally, as the evening wore on, Charlie said he prevailed upon a nurse to try a physician in his eye and put him to bed, Charlie said.

Then a call was put through to a West Palm Beach doctor, who was at dinner and was to

INDUSTRIAL AID CC TOPIC

BELLE GLADE — Chamber of Commerce directors discussed ways and means of securing co-operation of state agencies in industrial development at their regular meeting Wednesday evening at Chamber building, according to Secretary Edwin Young.

Directors felt that local industrial developments is a justifiable program for sponsorship by state agencies such as the State Improvement Commission or the State Advertising Commission, Mrs. Young reported.

BIG PROGRAM IS SET FOR CAP — A special program to inaugurate the Civil Air Patrol membership drive and new cadet program is set for Sunday, Oct. 17, Sam Belk of the Glades CAP announced yesterday.

At Belle Glade Airport that day, free airplane rides will be given to the public, whether or not they become CAP members, he said.

An Air Force helicopter demonstration will be put on at 1 o'clock. A chicken barbecue will be served from 1 to 5 p.m.

DATURA AUTO SALES SERVICE FOR GLADES — WEST PALM BEACH — Realizing that out of town shoppers need a central location to meet their needs, Datura Auto Sales announces that they will provide that service to their friends in the Glades, according to George Kairalla, proprietor.

Centrally located in downtown West Palm Beach, Datura Auto Sales has built a reputation for service to the public through its years of operation, according to Kairalla. The four-story parking building affords a number of a roof to its customers and is equipped with the most modern facilities and trained mechanics to meet the requirements of the motoring public, said Kairalla.

At Meeting Plans — Van Horn, one of the local directors of the 441 Highway Association, told of plans for a party for entertainment of the association officials at a dinner to be jointly sponsored by the Belle Glade and Pahokee chambers. Belle Glade directors agreed to participate in sharing expenses with Pahokee.

Dr. Victor C. Mulberg told of plans that are under way for a survey of the area to determine how many children are in need of an orthodontist's treatment. Dr. Mulberg said that if a survey showed a sufficient number of children in need of such treatment it might be possible to have a Ft. Lauderdale specialist come once a week to make this corrective dentistry locally available.

call back, Charlie said he waited about 45 minutes and no call came back, so he decided to "check myself out."

He signed a release at the nurse's request, and left the hospital in the company of Quin Redmond, a friend and fellow employee, who took him to the drug store. He told Dr. J. Allen Baker of Belle Glade, who removed the steel from Charlie's eye in his office shortly after 8:30.

Charlie, who is a former employee of the hospital, having worked there for two years when it was under government supervision, was dispatched Wednesday by Dr. Baker to a West Palm Beach eye specialist, the specialist treated the eye further, and has reported that its condition is satisfactory.

Brought To Head — Charlie's experience apparently brought to a head a series of complaints and comments about the Belle Glade hospital and medical situation generally.

At the September board meeting of the hospital, a physician spent nearly an hour taking the nursing, laboratory, and "on call" system of the hospital to task. Still another Glades physician told the OBSERVER this week that "the doctor situation" in the Belle Glade area was repeating itself.

In previous years, one doctor had dominated the community and the hospital to the detriment of the medical service, and that there exists today "the same kind of situation."

Wednesday a meeting of the hospital board and a group of citizens was called. The group met at Pioneer Growers Cooperative, of which Board Member Fritz Stokols is a member. C. A. Thomas and George Royal were the other two board members present, as was Hospital Administrator J. H. Parkes. Attending the meeting as an invited representative group of citizens were Mrs. Ed Lively, L. W. Stokols, a member of the Royal Hooker, Joe Friedheim, and Luther Jones, according to Royal.

Purpose Stated — Royal said that the purpose of the meeting was to plan with local citizens to "stop rumors that are going about the hospital," and to "correct errors," as well as to "bring more harmonious working conditions between the doctors."

Board Chairman Herbert Beck was unable to attend the meeting because of illness, and Member Harold Rabin is at home convalescing from a heart attack.

The next meeting of the board will be called by Beck, a few days, Royal said yesterday morning.

No Comment — There has been no official comment from the hospital regarding Charlie's story.

Parkes, when queried Wednesday, referred the newspaper to Royal, who said he was "not too familiar" with the details and referred a reporter to Parkes.

A. F. Hopson, office manager for Okelanta, who handles the company insurance, said that under the plan of the company as set up by Dr. W. O. Norville and Dr. Eugene Christian, the two Negro doctors. Two doctors from the Pahokee-Canal Point area have courtesy privileges.

MORE GOSSIP: Since the word is more or less definite now that Sen. George Smathers won't run for reelection, additional names are being added to the speculative list. Friends of Syd Herlong from all over Florida have been writing and calling him, asking him to get in the race. They think he could win because of his state-wide acquaintance and his fine record in Congress. They point out that he has been a hard working Congressman and has served his district with above the average distinction.

When they talk about his state-wide acquaintance, they point out that he was president of the County Judges Association, head of the Florida State, Baseball League, president of the U of F Alumni Association and thousands of personal friends scattered all over the state, and on and on and on. No doubt about it, Syd would be the "dark horse" to beat in the next race. Prediction? We think he is too smart to dream about glory on the other side of the hill and he will continue to serve Florida in the house.

UP AND UP AND UP: Nearly everything in Congress goes according to rank. And a Congressman's rank is determined by how long he has been here. Every time an election is held, some members are defeated and others move up in seniority. Even before the up-coming elections, it might be pointed out that Florida has four Congressmen who are in the upper half of the 435 members in rank. For example, Bob Sikes, Crestview, who out-ranks all other Florida members to wear the title of the "he-coon" is number 94 on the list. Dwight Rogers, of Ft. Lauderdale, comes next, number 137. Syd Herlong, and Charley Bennett, of Jacksonville, are even with 203 members ahead of them. The other four Florida members were here for the first time and come pretty well near the bottom. With a few updates expected in November, these rankings are almost certain to rise.

Penick Tells Of Welfare Assistance

In Palm Beach County 3,306 persons were assisted in the three categories of public assistance for the month of September. Chairman Thomas E. Penick of the public welfare board said this week.

A total of 1,564 persons received Old Age Assistance to the amount of $59,901.50. Seventy-seven persons received Aid to the Blind, totalling $3,724.00. Four hundred twenty-nine families, representing 1,306 children, received Aid to Dependent Children in the amount of $24,737.50.

In addition, 168 children received service during the month, 33 of whom were in foster homes, and one runaway child. The total state and local cost for these child welfare services was $1,448.24.

There were six adoption petitions studied for the Circuit Court. These children placed in homes independent of service through a licensed child placement agency, and the welfare board is responsible according to law to make these reports to the court.

Snooping through the bosses' mail (one of my more delightful habits) I came across a red-hot item:

"The pine cone buying season is over, according to R. A. Banninghausen, management chief of the Florida Forest Service."

Great, I thought, just great. Nothing better than to do your pine cone buying early.

On the other hand, say you did finish shopping for pine cones — what would you have when the last cone was in? It's right in line with an ad I once read that said "All sorts of hooks for hanging purposes." Who wants to hang a purpose?

However, before my mind got completely out of hand I returned to the news release about pine cones.

Turned out to be right interesting. These people have 35,000 bushels of pine cones collected. The cones are now being dried. Then and here's the crux of the matter — when the cones are dry somebody will bushy shake 'em and the seeds they contain will fall out. In the spring, the seed will be planted at the two Florida Forest Service nurseries at Oustee and Munson to become next winter's seedling crop.

Even with a moderate yield of seed, the aforesaid Mr. Banninghausen adds, "We've got more than enough cones to raise 50 million seedlings for 1955."

The surplus seeds will be held in cold storage and used the next year, he said — or what'll we find next in the freezer?

At the moment, no particular moral comes to me from this pine cone-buying story, except that there are methods to all sorts of apparent madness. For instance, that joked-about man who kept trunks of pan-pakes around the house probably never went hungry.

Biggest Hyacinth Eradication Yet

TALLAHASSEE — The largest hyacinth eradication project yet to be handled by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission was completed this week with what was called "a big success," according to Dean G. Dennis, assistant supervisor of the Commission's hyacinth program.

The project covered approximately 40 miles of Caloosahatchee River with 1500 acres of hyacinth sprayed. With the cooperation of the Lee County Commissioners and the commissioners of the City of Fort Myers, the dreaded menace to the fishing waters of the Caloosahatchee has been 90% cleared.

In the two and one half years the Commission's Hyacinth Control Program has been underway, thousands of acres of hyacinths have been cleared from the waters of the state, and fresh water fishing has been restored to the fishermen.

Democratic Harmony Dinner

To Be October 9

A "Harmony dinner" to raise funds for the fall campaign is being sponsored by the State and County Democratic Committees, Mrs. A. C. Adams, chairman reported.

The $5 a plate dinner, to be held Oct. 9 at the George Washington Hotel in West Palm Beach, will be addressed by Stephen Mitchell, Democratic national committee chairman. Also on the program will be State Committeeman James Millikan.

All Democrats interested in attending the dinner are requested to notify Mrs. A.C. Adams, Box 1587, West Palm Beach. Ticket sales at the door on the night of the dinner will be limited, Mrs. Adams said.

Palm Beach County Leads in Conservation

Palm Beach County leads the state in six agricultural projects according to R. S. Dennis, state administrative officer, Gainesville.

One eighth of the pasture sodded or sprigged in the state was in Palm Beach county and the county led in clearing land for pasture with 3,659 acres. Resprigging and seeding in the county accounted for nearly 10,000 acres, according to Dennis.

In applications of potash and phosphate Palm Beach County led the state, and its conservation practice was valued at more than $18,000 in 1954. Less than covering 526,882 bushels were issued according to Dennis.

LOOKING INTO THE FACTS...

This series of feeding notes is brought to you from the pages of FEEDSTUFFS, a weekly publication for the feeding industry.

MILESTONES IN NUTRITION

In a recent article on "Milestones in Nutrition," Dr. J. S. Hughes, professor of biochemistry at Kansas State University writes that information secured in the laboratory of human experience antedated the development of scientific research by many years. He tells how fish liver as a dietary additive was known to the ancients. A passage in the Old Testament shows the relation of grass in animal diet to blindness, he says.

Among Dr. Hughes' milestones in nutrition is the research in 1803 revealing the three important phases of nutrition: energy value of feeding; chemical analysis as a measure of nutritive value of feeds and the use of experimental animals in the study of nutrition.

Welcome, Mr. President!
 What one community provides for the reception of the President of the United States is interestingly described in a letter this week from Walla Walla, Wash., where the President spent the night before dedicating McNary Dam:

"This whole past week has been a gala one, President Eisenhower was here Wednesday night and part of Thursday morning. The Marcus Whitman Hotel was headquarters for the presidential party. The whole fifth floor of the hotel had been turned into a western White House with walls ripped out to make a presidential suite, corridors turned into temporary offices with teletype machines in all available space and telephone facilities with direct wires to Washington, to mention only a few facilities necessary for the President's official administration office of vice while away from home base.

"The whole program was so well handled that the secret service and the press both agreed they had not seen better arrangements anywhere.

"The President arrived in the Colombine at 6:50 p.m. The highway from the airport was lined with interested well-wishers and our view was as good as could be expected with the entourage paced at 35 miles per hour because of Secret Service precautionary rules. The power company installed flood lights along the entire route so that everyone had an excellently lighted view.

"Small gestures make large impressions and there were several on this trip. My granddaughter's class wrote the President a letter telling him that they would be standing along his route and would be holding signs.

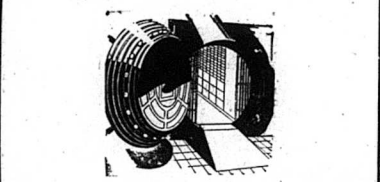

"There were, of course, the governors of seven western states as well as our own, and in addition, their respective official parties. The tea at the country club was one of the largest parties, and facilities being sorely taxed, six other parties were held at as many large homes for various sections of the numerous groups.

"Not since President Theodore Roosevelt's visit has there been such a to-do in this community. One thing resulted, merchants painted up and cleaned up for the visit and their improvements will be appreciated by all of us long after the dedication ceremonies are dim memories."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (142:31): "Truth is God's reward for error of evil, and Truth destroys only what is untrue. Hence the fact that, today, as yesterday, Christ casts out evils and heals the sick."

WASHINGTON—America's new robot telephone exchanges for long-distance use a tape-punching machine that goes into action as soon as the call is dialed, the National Geographic Society points out. It takes down the number of the caller, the number being called, and how long the conversation lasts. If there is a busy signal or no response, the tape records that fact. Later the tape is fed through other machines to figure the monthly bill.

The glue that sticks United States postage stamps is made of a hybrid-con and casava mixture, says the National Geographic Society. It is not only palatable but slightly nutritious.

PAHOKEE — With a "green beans Kat's style" recipe, Mrs. Roy Vandegrift took first prize in the competition held at the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association meeting in Miami. She also won an all expense trip to Nassau.

"Kat's style" beans are green beans cooked with salt pork, whole small potatoes, small spring onions and mushrooms. In the drawing at the last business meeting, participated in by the wives of FFVA members this year for the first time, Mrs. Vandegrift won an all-expense trip to Nassau for two. Citizens Warned Against Solicitors

PAHOKEE — A warning to "Watch Out, They're Out!" was issued to residents by the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce solicitation control committee this week after the first unapproved solicitation of the season was stopped before money changed hands.

"They," the C of C explained, are the annual flock of traveling people selling everything from false charities to shoddy goods.

In this case, reported Secretary Bertha Orr, a proposition was made by a salesman to five local students and their parents whereby the students were to receive a free reference book a year in exchange for use of the student's endorsements of the books.

$99 'Tax' Buried down low somewhere was a $99 payment to be made for "tax."

When a parent of one of the students wisely came to the Chamber office asking about the proposition, Mrs. Orr set Police Chief Leon Guthrie to checking the solicitor, under the revised requirements for solicitations within the city.

Police Chief Guthrie found that the man and his car had left town, apparently aware that the police were checking.

The word from the C of C and the police is don't listen to "them" without first checking with the chamber office and the police as to their credentials.

Belle Glade C of C Secretary Edwin Young reported that there was no evidence of the solicitor turning up there.

FIVE ALARMS IN BG IN SEPT.

BELLE GLADE—Five alarms during September brought the Belle Glade Fire Department to the scene of one near fatality and to four fires, one of which damaged property in excess of $4,000.

Quick action on the part of Fireman Floyd Smith early in September was credited with saving the life of Billy Mathis in a near fatal accident. Smith used the resuscitator and two cylinders of oxygen before Billy reached the hospital. Property damage caused by "penny foolishness" in excess of $4,000 was caused by a house tenant placing a penny instead of a five cent fuse in a fuse box. Action of the fire department prevented further damage, according to Cecil Bair, assistant chief.

The sanitation department made 118 inspections in September and discovered 10 violations. Approximately 600 tons of refuse and garbage were moved and the cost of gas, oil, and maintenance was $304.01, according to Rodney Ketcham, city sanitarian.

City Building Inspector N. B. Willis reports 43 construction jobs in excess of $500 each in progress. He inspected 165 buildings in September and made 318 contacts on city business during the same month, he reports.

Seasonal activity is reflected in the 40 meters turned on as opposed to the 17 turned off in September, according to Clar-Vann, program chairman.

ehce Throop, water department superintendent. He also reports that 300 feet of 1 inch pipe were laid on S.W. 7th and 8th Sts. and that 30,000 pounds of lime were unloaded for use in water purification.

PRODUCTION EFFICIENCY

FINAL ASSEMBLY

FIRST PLANE: 112,000 MANHOURS

QUANTITY PRODUCTION: 4,150 MANHOURS

Quantity production of aircraft results in increased efficiency and lower unit costs. Typical example: the manufacturer of a modern bomber reports that 112,000 man-hours were required for final assembly of the first unit off production line. Recently, after producing more than 700 of the planes, man-hours for final assembly were down to 4,150.

"Blind Man's" Bluff

You know how Handy Turner down at the hardware store goes in for weird advertising stunts. Well, when it came to plugging his new Venetian blind department, his enthusiasm nearly landed him in trouble.

Handy painted a warning on the tailboard of his truck: "Caution—blind man driving."

"Had driven about a mile," Handy says, "when a state trooper stopped me and told me that sign might cause trouble. Guess he was right. From now on I'll advertise in the Clarion."

From where I sit, I agree—the highway is no place for jokes. We all ought to be considerate of the other fellow when we're driving. In fact, let's respect our neighbor's right of way always. Then, when we have differences of opinion—say about the best route to Centerville, or whether beer or buttermilk is better with lunch—there will be less chance of anybody developing any "blind" spots.

Pahokee, Fla.

RAMS-VERO, DEVILS-FT. PIERCE

The Pahokee Blue Devils and the Belle Glade Golden Rams are traveling men tonight, the former heading today for Ft. Pierce to take on the vaunted Eagles who were held to a scoreless tie by feeble Stuart a couple of weeks ago. The Rams go to Vero Beach to seek their fortune, after valiantly holding Clewiston to a 12-6 Tiger triumph last week.

PAHOKEE 27 - STUART 6

The Blue Devils, playing without ineligible Hal Rosenberg, showed their best form thus far this season in battering the Stuart Tigers last Friday at Lair Field, 27-6.

In adding another game to the win column (2-1) Pahokee's Richard Weeks, George Mills, John Williams, Pat Turbevile showed flashing form.

Williams made the first touchdown, and Weeks whipped in for the second. Walter Wood Mills pass for the point on the second TD. Weeks took the ball home for a third touchdown in the third quarter, and Stuart's defense intercepted a Stuart pass. Mills attended to the business of bringing the score to 27 on a sneak.

Stuart's Fred Reddish kept the Tigers from total annihilation by his 47-yard run to the goal line in the second quarter. The new electric scoreboard paid for (not yet completely) by the Pahokee and Canal Point Lions, functioned properly under $100 to help pay for it was contributed at halftime by spectators.

3rd Highest County Taxes

A tax roll showing Palm Beach County's intangible assessments to be the third highest in the state, was approved by the County Commission this week.

County Tax Assessor James Owens, Jr., told the commission he believed the county's intangible tax valuation of $376, 044,608, to be the third highest by similar valuations in Dade and Duval counties. This assessment is expected to raise $522, 086 in revenue this year.

The assessor said the county's tax bills would probably be in the mail immediately. The commission received and accepted the roll and ordered that it be turned over to the tax collector. Tax assessments this year Owens said, show a $19 million increase over last year. Total valuation was set at $257, 986,716 on which $176,618,626 will be levied to raise the county's $6 million budget for the coming year. Owens also listed an increase of 2,261 homestead exemptions over last years assessments.

C-C MEMBERS TO ELECT OFFICERS

PAHOKEE — The membership of the Chamber of Commerce this week was voting by mail to select four new directors from a list of seven nominees for directorships.

Voting, which will be tallied next Wednesday, will select the new directors for a one year term. Mrs. Alma W. Farrow, Dr. Mendal J. Luce, Julius Moon, Delmar Hooks, William S. Plumer, John Thorne, and Jesse Reel. Moon has served a year on the board filling an unexpired term, and under C of C by-laws is eligible for election to a full term.

Lowered Rates
Claude Shirley, RDB vice president and member of the Pahokee C of C, reported to Monday night's board meeting that the efforts of the Pahokee, Belle Glade, and Clewiston chambers to get freight rates lowered on cement had been successful. With the rates down, the saving has been passed on proportionately to the consumer, Shirley said, and now cement is $1.40 per bag in the Glades as compared to $1.45 in West Palm Beach.

The board okayed with revisions the sketch for the new signs advertising Pahokee to be erected north of Canal Point and near the intersection of Routes 441 and 717. It was also voted to have the sign company repaint the present sign at 20-Mile Bend. Civic clubs meeting weekly in Palm Beach have their names listed on the sign and will be asked to pay a month's sign rent for the privilege of advertising their meetings throughout the year.

Other Actions
In other actions the Chamber board:

VOTED to reorder the official C of C decals, 500 of them, at a cost of $70;

SET the annual meeting for Monday, Oct. 18, following the election;

VOTED to send Secretary Bertha Orr to the state C-C executives' meeting in Havana Oct. 22-24;

HEARD a report on the local chamber leaders' workshop in Miami by President Leonard Dobrow and Director Curtis Chase, who attended.

BG PTA MAKES H'WEEN PLANS

BELLE GLADE — A costume parade will lead off the Halloween carnival of the Belle Glade Parent-Teacher Association Saturday, Oct. 30, according to tentative plans outlined by the committee this week.

Mrs. E. F. Maxson is general chairman of the carnival, and Mrs. Hubert Tillery and Mrs. Harold McKee are co-chairmen. The carnival will be held on the high and elementary school grounds, starting at 2 p.m. with a parade on the football field and continuing on to the school grounds. Hazel Hazards Cattle Sale

BELLE GLADE — Hurricane Hazel might have had something to do with Wednesday's sale, according to George C. Young, manager, Glades Livestock Market Association. Young said that while Monday's sale was up with 762 cattle bringing $40,278.66, Wednesday's was "rough."

Saying that utility steers were off about $1. and that Chicago is off too, Young felt that nevertheless the seasonal outlook was good. Wednesday's sale brought $5,098.51 for 175 head of cattle, said Young.

Monday's sale report follows: 762 cattle — $49,278.66
72 per cent of head and 71 per cent of dollars to slaughter, 399 steers, 157 calves, 156 cows, 21 yearlings, 20 heifers, 9 bulls.

Miss Bourke-White was a pioneer photographer for Life, and has been on the staff since the experimental issues before its first publication in 1936. Her camera has recorded scenes of war and peace throughout the world, though her travels have not yet taken her to the South Magnetic Pole, Australia, and a few of the South Pacific islands, she says.

NOTED LIFE

Miss Bourke-White was a pioneer photographer for Life, and has been on the staff since the experimental issues before its first publication in 1936. Her camera has recorded scenes of war and peace throughout the world, though her travels have not yet taken her to the South Magnetic Pole, Australia, and a few of the South Pacific islands, she says.
